Secretary's Report

San Leandro Computer Club
General Meeting
4 June 1985

Well folks, this is it! The last article as secretary by me and my help. My help? Yes, the ever-efficient Hoods were able to refresh my memory of what happened while I was counting votes. Speaking of votes, congratulations to Dan Chun, my replacement, who will do a fine job [and will probably attend more meetings than I did!]. Anyway, on with the show...

8:05 Things get started, as Phil gives his regular opening speech. Phil also blows off steam about the 520ST deal [deal?]. Yes, Atari tried to give us the shaft, but have since changed that offer [as in the letter you should have received]...

8:30 Nate Hood gets up and explains to the masses about the non-existent Special Edition Floppy. However, he does make good by taking a vote for free Special Edition Floppies to members. This offer is overwhelmingly approved.

8:40 The moment of truth is here! Elections! Members cast their ballots and Tom Bennett, Bill George, and myself retire to tally the votes...After which Gary Furr, author of AtariWriter and assorted AtariWriter printer drivers gives a talk on printer drivers and other such things...[Sorry about the lack of detail...]

9:15 The ballot counters return with the results, only there is a bit of a problem. No one can remember if the elections have to be won by a majority or a plurality. After a great and overly long discussion, it is decided to take the results as they stand... President Bob Barton, Vice President Jim Hood, Secretary Dan Chun, and Treasurer Lois Hansen. This is a fine group of officers, and I feel that it will be a great year for the club.

After the usually chaotic break, the usually chaotic raffle is held, with disgruntled winners [At least I won something...]. Doors close, and another exciting meeting of the SLCC draws to a close...

...and they lived happily ever after...

From The Editor's Desk

WE DIDN'T MAKE IT!! Due to typesetting delays and overall heavy workload, you did not get the Special Edition in June. By the main meeting it will be in the printer's hands and we will distribute it on receipt. But you will receive your free Special Edition disks at the main meeting. If you cannot make the meeting, we will either mail or hold your disks for the next meeting. We are sorry for the delays, but hope you will understand them when you receive the final product!
